

THE GERMAN TROOPS SLAY MANY REBELS

300 Herreros Slain in a Stubborn Battle.

The German Lose Four Killed—American Officers Killed By Moros.

A SMALL WAR IN CROATIA

Berlin, April 11.—A report reached here today of a desperately fought battle between the German troops and the rebel Herreros, at Ognanieron, German Southwest Africa.

The Germans numbered a thousand and the rebels outnumbered them three to one.

The Germans stormed the rebel position and were repeatedly thrown back and after eight hours stubborn fighting the enemy was driven from its position.

The Herreros retreated to the eastward.

The German loss is four killed and twelve wounded.

The Herreros were slaughtered by the wholesale, over three hundred dead being counted on the battlefield.

FIGHTING IN PHILIPPINES.

Manila, April 11.—News reached here today of a fight between General Woods' forces and the Moros, at Taira river. The Moros attacked the Americans and were repulsed with great slaughter. Their leaders, however, escaped. The Americans lost two killed and six wounded.

RIOTING AT CROATIA.

Vienna, April 11.—Serious rioting occurred at a political meeting at Sausabor, Croatia today. The peasants trampled the president of the meeting to death, broke into the town hall, burned the public registers and were finally suppressed by troops.

An artilleryman was killed by the explosion of a cartridge during the melee.

AN OVERDOSE

LAUDANUM COMES NEAR CAUSING DEATH OF AN OFFICER'S CHILD.

Officer J. W. Clark, of the police force, this morning gave his three weeks old child an overdose of laudanum through mistake and the infant came near dying.

The child had been fretting for several hours, and the parents had decided to give it an opiate to relieve the pain, but misjudged the amount and gave too much. Dr. J. S. Troutman was called and after several hours work succeeded in bringing the infant around and out of danger.

MASS AT ST. PETERS.

A BRILLIANT THRONG WAS PRESENT TODAY.

Rome, April 11.—Pope Pius celebrated his first mass at St. Peter's today amid a vast concourse of people. The scene was a brilliant and inspiring one and the immense basilica was thickly crowded, about forty thousand persons hailing from all nations being present. The pope was pale, and looked more aged than when he succeeded to the papal throne.

RICH COAL.

A VEIN DISCOVERED IN ALASKA 185 SQUARE MILES.

Washington, April 11.—A deposit of coal which is expected to prove of tremendous importance has been discovered in Alaska, twenty-five miles inland from Controller Bay. The coal is of a very superior quality of bituminous and almost as hard as anthracite. The beds comprise an area of about eighty-five square miles.

INCENDIARY TALK CAUSES HEAVY FINE

Mitch Caldwell Wanted Officers Estes and Terrell Killed.

Judge Sanders Gives Him a $100 Fine and Twenty Days in Jail.

OTHER CASES IN THE COURT

Mitch Caldwell, colored, employed at a north side tobacco house, was arraigned in the police court this morning for a breach of the peace, and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to twenty days in jail. His offense was an aggravated one calculated to cause a great deal of trouble if his thirty or more companions had been in the same inflamed state of mind that he was.

The evidence showed that Saturday night Caldwell, who is a mulatto about thirty-five years old, was in houseman's saloon and grocery at Tenth and Trimble streets with thirty or forty other colored people.

"Niggers, git out yo' pistols an go to shootin' police," Officers Wm. Estes and Thad Terrell swore he said. "No man is a good nigger until he has killed a policeman," said Caldwell as they entered.

The officers showed wonderful self-control in the crowd, however, and in time succeeded in quelling all excitement, and locking Caldwell up.

Judge Sanders said that he believed every good, law abiding colored citizen, as well as the white people, would endorse his judgment. "I could hold you for using incendiary language," he said to Caldwell, "and after being indicted you could be fined anywhere from one cent to a million dollars, and sent to jail for a year."

He went on to say that colored people in Paducah paid taxes on over $100,000 worth of property, showing that there were many good, law abiding colored people here and that such men as Caldwell were a menace to the race. That such language and conduct as he was guilty of was likely to create strife in a community, and result in the death of many innocent people, white as well as colored.

"Suppose those other men had been in the same condition you were," said the court, "and had taken you at your word and begun shooting at the officers? Nothing on earth would have saved you from being hanged, and many of the good colored people would have helped to do it. It is just such men and such talk that cause all or most of the race trouble in this country, and we officers must rebuke it when we have a chance. The police officers are your friends. They are the friend of the colored as well as white people, and are here to protect you. I have never yet known of a case where an officer mistreated a colored man unless he had ample cause to. These officers were your friends, and were there to see that you did what was right. Yet you wanted them killed, and tried to get thirty or more men with you to draw their pistols and kill them. These officers have to go out in all kinds of places, and all kinds of weather to see that every citizen is safe, and I think every good citizen will approve the sentence against you, which could be very much more severe."

The case against Black Little, alias W. J. Candor, who is alleged to have forged the name of Clerk J. T. Ogle, of the Charleston, for $50.75, was turned over to the grand jury for action.

Judge Sanders this morning announced that he would hereafter allow the repetition of no vulgar or improper language in his court. "Police courts have a bad enough reputation already," he declared, "and often on this account good people will not if they can help it, come here to testify. Hereafter I want no officer or other witness to repeat improper language unless he is called upon to do so." Judge Sanders, in thus taking steps to elevate the police court, will doubtless receive the commendation of everybody.

NO BATTLE FOUGHT AT PORT ARTHUR

Japanese Fail to Make Their Attack.

The Baltic Squadron To Leave—Can Reach the Scene By August.

NO IMPORTANT WAR NEWS

St. Petersburg, April 11.—The attack predicted for yesterday at Port Arthur failed to materialize, as was known all along would be the case. It is not usual for a nation to prepare for a battle two or three days ahead of time and then telegraph it all over the country. Ample precautions had been taken by Russia to protect the port, and the Japanese made no pretensions of attacking the port.

CHINA'S ATTITUDE.

St. Petersburg, April 11.—The only news tells of the threatening attitude of Gen. Ma, on the Manchurian frontier, and fully confirming Russian information regarding the unfriendly attitude of China, in spite of official declarations of neutrality.

Prince Khilkoff has been decorated with the order of the White Eagle for his splendid services on the Baikal railway, and also receives the special thanks of the Emperor.

THE BALTIC SQUADRON.

London, April 11.—Paris dispatch says that a telegram from St. Petersburg states that commander Kulezicki has handed a report to the czar concerning the proposed voyage of the Baltic squadron to the far east by way of the sea of Kara. Kulezicki says he will be able to get the squadron to its destination by the end of August.

ARTILLERY ARRIVES.

London, April 11.—A cheft dispatch to the Times says that about two thousand Russian artillery arrived at New Chwang Thursday.

The case against Gus Williams, colored, charged with stealing a sack of oats, was left open. He testified that two other boys scraped the oats from the bottom of cars, and let the sack in the loft, selling it to him. The other boys have left town. W. W. Bartlett, — Frame, Sandy Oglesby, and Charles Campbell were fined $1 and costs each for a plain drunk.

M. V. Harris, B. W. Posey, and A. M. Elmore were fined $5 and costs and the last $10 and costs for breach of the peace. G. Edwards, for breach of the peace, was dismissed.

The Russian church and the Russian people generally continued their Easter celebration, and all thoughts of war have for the present been banished from St. Petersburg.

Louis Keeling of Anderson, Ind., who came here to pitch for the local Kitty league team, returned home today at noon.

THE NASHVILLE WILL STOP HERE

Secretary Moody Ordered it to Paducah This Morning.

Three Other Kentucky Cities to Be Honored By Stops of the War Vessels.

THE DATE NOT YET KNOWN

A telegram received this afternoon by The Sun from Washington states that pursuant to the request of Congressman Ollie M. James, of the First district, Secretary of Navy Moody today ordered the gunboat Nashville, the destroyer Lawrence and accompanying vessels, to stop at Columbus, Ky., Hickman, Ky., and Paducah, Ky., en route up the Ohio to Evansville, Ind.

The date the vessels will arrive here is not known, but it is thought that they will reach Memphis on April 23 and probably Paducah two or three days later. The water is now low enough at the Cairo bridge for the boats to pass under and there is plenty of water and from indications will be during all this month, for the vessels to go as far as Evansville, or if they had time, in to Louisville.

The moulter Arkansas was here two years ago, and judging from the immense crowds it drew from all the surrounding country, Paducah will have a larger crowd on the day of the arrival of this fleet than two or three cruises could bring here.

The Commercial club and merchants will probably take the necessary steps to properly advertise the date of arrival, when it is learned when it will be.

TOWN FLOODED

AN ICE JAM CAUSES GREAT LOSS NEAR MONTREAL.

Montreal, April 11.—A jam of ice on the St. Lawrence has flooded Wenden, a town near Montreal, and over two hundred houses are flooded. Many people were rescued from the top store of windows, and removed in boats.

ALLEGED MURDERER ARRESTED

Waltham, Mass., April 11.—Charles L. Tucker, who was arrested Saturday night on a charge of murdering Mabel Page, was arraigned this morning and pleaded not guilty and the case was continued until April 21.

THE MINNESOTA CASE DECIDED

Federal Court Had no Jurisdiction in Case.

A Big Strike of Machinists in Santa Fe Is Predicted.

BOY DIES OF A DOG BITE

Washington, April 11.—The case of the state of Minnesota against the Northern Securities Co. and the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroad, which was not decided in the supreme court of the United States when the merger decision was handed down was decided today. The supreme court holds that the federal circuit court had no jurisdiction and the case was dismissed.

BIG STRIKE PROBABLE.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—Indications point to a rupture between the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railway Co., and the International association of machinists, which will probably cause a declaration of a general strike in the shops of the system within two weeks.

BUYS METEORITE.

Lexington, April 11.—Jesse Turner has purchased for $2,500 a meteorite which fell in Bath county several months ago. He will exhibit it at the world's fair.

DIED OF HYDROPHOBIA.

Louis, Ky., April 11.—The five year old son of James Liming died of hydrophobia today at Cherokee. The boy and his eldest sister were bitten by a dog three weeks ago. The disease has not yet developed in the little girl.

COUNTY COURT

LOCAL STATE BANKS AGREE TO ABIDE BY BANK OF COMMERCE CASE

County Judge R. T. Lightfoot this morning held county court but little business was transacted.

All settlements were ordered over for exceptions and several small allowances were made.

The only thing of importance done was the action of the local banks who agreed to abide by the decision of the court in the case of Frank Lucas against the Louisville Bank of Commerce. Lucas filed suits against all banks to collect a tax on deposit and the banks agreed to make a test case of the suits with the Louisville Bank of Commerce as defendant.

Court adjourned this morning after a brief session.

George Hase deeds to Henry Schmans, for $1 and other considerations, property in the county.

Ed. Kelling, colored, of the city, age 24 and Sadie Holloway, of the city, age 21, have been licensed to wed. It will make the first marriage of both.

NEW SOUTH HERE

BIG STEAMER LANDED AT THE WHARF AND DAMAGED FERRY BOAT.

The handsome big steamer New South this afternoon landed at the wharf to get a physician for a sick pilot, and in landing struck the ferry boat and did quite a little damage, but none serious. The New South is on her way from New Orleans to Louisville, where she will be put in order for the world's fair trade. It has been many years since she was in this trade. She is running only in day time.

NO SETTLEMENT OF STREET DISPUTE

Engineer Washington Will Order Work Resumed.

If It Is Not Then Done, Steps May Be Taken to Cancel the Contract with Him.

NO AGREEMENT IS IN SIGHT

Work is still suspended on the South Third street paving on account of the disagreement between City Engineer L. A. Washington and Contractor E. O. Terrell. As stated Saturday, the contractor claims that the plans and specifications do not require him to place concrete between the street car ties, while the city engineer says that they do.

Saturday afternoon a meeting of the board of public works was held for the purpose of settling the controversy, but Contractor Terrell's attorney, Lawyer Thomas Orice, took the position that as the contract was let by the council, only the council can change it. It was decided then not to take any action at all, although the acting city solicitor claims that all public work is now under the control of the board of public works.

The city engineer states that even the contractor and his attorney do not agree on what the specifications call for, the contractor claiming one thing, and the attorney the other. Engineer Washington states that he will remain firm so far as the city is concerned, and will order the contractor today to proceed with the work or abandon the contract.

Mayor Yeiser stated that he knew nothing of the merits of the disagreement, but said that he thought the city ought to abide by the decision of the engineer. He also said that no matter if work on South Third is suspended a week or until the next regular meeting of the board, he will not call a special session of the council and aldermen to settle the controversy now. "I look at it this way," explained the mayor. "There is no use putting the tax payers to the expense of $50 or $60 for those called meetings, and I can't see my way clear to do it. I think the whole thing should be left to the city engineer, and if the contractor is not satisfied, let him resort to the courts."

Engineer Washington explains that the contract requires that when extra work is to be done, the city engineer is to give the contractor notice in writing. Contractor Terrell wants a notice in writing from the city engineer so he can continue the work, and Engineer Washington says he will never get it, and will instead be ordered to resume work or give up the job.

Today it was finally decided that the contractor resume work on South Third street until the board meet and decide the question of extras. There is now only a limited supply of sand on hand, and it is feared that the work will after all be greatly delayed on that account.

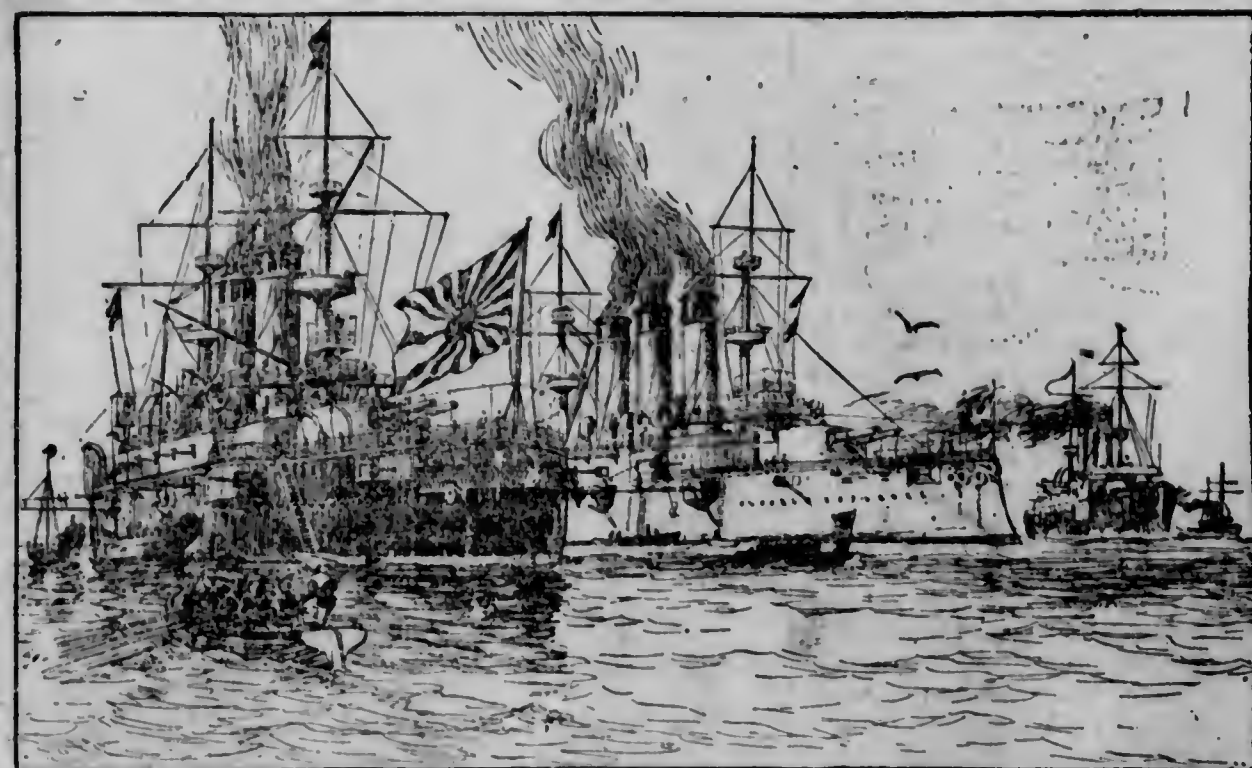

NO DAMAGE

FARMERS, HOWEVER, REPORT A LIGHT FROST THIS MORNING.

It is generally agreed that there has been no damage to fruit or crops by the cool weather of yesterday. The minimum in the city was 40 degrees last night according to Government Observer Bornemann, but a number of farmers from the county this morning reported that there was a light frost. It was a "white frost" however, and did no damage.

It takes 38 degrees to make frost, under any conditions, and while there could have been no frost in the city, it is possible there was some in the country, where it is always cooler.

The milling plant at Hawesville, valued at $25,000 and owned by Bullitt & Co., of Louisville, was destroyed by fire.

Hopkinsville Signs a Manager—A
Schedule to Be Made Out
Tomorrow.

OTHER LATE BASEBALL NEWS

The Paducah K. I. T. league baseball team defeated the Nashville Southern league team by a score of 10 to 8 in an interesting game at Wallace park yesterday afternoon. The attendance was large, 826 paid admissions having been collected, and the management of the team is elated over the prospects of good patronage this season.

Nashville players arrived at 1:30 over the N. O. & St. L. and the game began about 3:30. Freeman and Land was the Paducah battery while Herman and Fisher was the battery for the visitors. There was some heavy slugging on both sides, yet both pitchers did exceptionally well despite the fact that the weather was unfavorable.

The game started out rather badly for Paducah, Nashville making four scores in the first inning, while Paducah made only two scores in the first. Nashville tallied two in the second inning, one in the fifth and one in the sixth. Paducah tallied again in the third making two scores and followed by three in the fifth and one in the sixth. Two more scores were made in the eighth inning and the game was Paducah's.

F. B. Armstrong, of St. Louis, has been signed to manage the Hopkinsville K. I. T. baseball team. Hopkinsville has signed three of its last years team, Lavson, Farris, Murphreeboro, Tenn., Charles Bowman, Eaglesville, Tenn., and Otto Mullen, Hopkinsville. Forrest Morris, also with the team last year, will probably be signed. Other players signed are:

Harry F. Welch, of Mt. Sterling, Ky., second baseman, formerly of the Clay City team which last year won sixty-two out of sixty-three games played.

William Rainbarden, of Terre Haute, Ind., short stop, who played last season in the Central league.

Benton Jones, of Shelbyville, Tenn., pitcher.

H. N. Morgan, of Morgansfield, infielder.

A rough draft of the schedule for this season will be submitted to the league by Tuesday for its approval, says the Cairo Bulletin. The draft merely includes the route and circuit, the main part of drawing up a schedule. The dates will be added after its approval. As can be seen from a glance, Cairo is at Clarksville, Paducah at Henderson and Hopkinsville at Vincennes on Decoration day. On July 4 Paducah is at Vincennes, Cairo at Hopkinsville and Clarksville at Henderson. As usual the schedule will not suit every one, in fact, nothing was ever done that suited all, but this schedule will save many a dollar in transportation for the teams.

Jim Kinney who played first base for Clarksville last season, has been signed by that team again to play first and manage the team en route. A deaf mute short stop has been signed with several other fielders. Clarksville will be to the front again this season and is confident of giving the other teams a hard run for the pennant.

Mr. Lonnie Martin, of Nashville, who has been here trying out with the local Kitty league team, returned home today.

NEW POSITION

MR. A. PHILBRICK LEAVES THE MEMPHIS AND GULF FOR TENNESSEE CENTRAL.

Mr. A. Philbrick, formerly superintendent of the Louisville division of the I. O., but later chief engineer of the Memphis and Gulf Railway, has resigned with the latter road and assumed a similar position with the Tennessee Central road. He will have entire jurisdiction over the Tennessee Central with headquarters in Nashville.

William Armstrong Turk, passenger traffic manager of the Southern railway, died in Washington.

BIG BUSINESS

Results in a New Official for the American Express Co.

Mr. J. H. Hays Made Superintendent of Agencies South of Ohio River.

It is announced in Memphis that the office of general superintendent of southern agencies of the American Express Co. will be established there with Mr. J. H. Hays in authority.

Mr. Hays has been acting as agent for the company at Memphis and the appointment to the superintendency comes in the way of a promotion. His position as agent will be filled by J. G. Borch, of Owensboro. This move of the express company is the result of the increase in business of the express company south of the Ohio river which necessitates the creation of such an office. Mr. Hays will have jurisdiction over the agencies south of the Ohio river including Paducah and will have about 235 offices under his supervision.

WORLD'S RECORD

PADUCAH OPERATORS MAKE IT
ON SIMPLEX MACHINE.

Two Paducah men have broken the world's record on the Simplex typesetting machine, which are the kind used in the Sun office. Messrs. M. C. McCabe, operator, and Leo Bridges, justifier, a few days ago made a record on a Simplex machine of 60,200 ems in 6 1/2 hours, which they have been informed by Mr. H. L. Baker, President of the Simplex Company, New York, is the best thing that company has any record or knowledge of, and is a great thing for the Paducah boys. Their record for the week in which the above was made was 316,700 ems, and the best two consecutive hours showed up 9,800 ems per hour.

Both men have been working in the Sun office for many months and are as fast as operators get on typesetting machines.

IN A FEW DAYS

DR. GARBER CLAIMS HE WILL BE ELIGIBLE.

Dr. Garber, the newly elected milk and meat inspector, stated this morning that he would qualify when he had been here one year. Dr. Garber will have lived here one year on the fifteenth inst., and is only awaiting the arrival of that date to qualify and assume the duties of his office. There is talk of Dr. Dudley, the incumbent, bringing suit to test the election, and Dr. Dudley has so stated that he will institute one. This will bring about complications, and will involve the same questions as those in the prospective suit of Capt. J. M. Ezell over the license inspectorship.

HARD TASK

TEACHERS TO BEGIN COM-
MENCEMENT PROGRAM.

This afternoon the teachers in the High school will meet to arrange a program for the commencement exercises, which will be a difficult task, as the matter of deciding who will have speaking parts is not an easy one. There are many pupils of high grades, who by virtue of their hard work are entitled to such honors, but there are not enough parts to go all the way around. Those who are not on for a recitation, address or some similar number, will be given a part in the quartette or chorals.

CURES COUGHS AND COLDS.

Mrs. C. Peterson, 625 Lake street, Topeka, Kansas, says: "Of all cough remedies Ballard's Horehound Syrup is my favorite; it has done and will do all that is claimed for it—to speedily cure all coughs and colds—and it is so sweet and pleasant to the taste." 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.

WANTED: 50 MEN AND WOMEN.

TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF SPECIAL OFFER MADE BY LANG BROS.

Lang Bros., the enterprising druggists, are advertising today for 50 men and women to take advantage of the special half-price offer they are making on Dr. Howard's celebrated specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia, and get a 50 cent package at half price, 25 cents.

So positive are they of the remarkable power of this specific to cure these diseases, as well as sick headaches and liver troubles, that they agree to refund the money to any customer whom this medicine does not quickly relieve and cure.

With Dr. Howard's specific at hand, you can eat what you want and have no fear of ill consequences. It strengthens the stomach, gives perfect digestion, regulates the bowels, creates an appetite, and makes life worth the living.

This is an unusual opportunity to obtain 50 doses of the best medicine ever made for half its regular price, with the personal guarantee of a well known business firm to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT

PUPILS OF LONE OAK COLLEGE
PRESENT MERCHANT OF VENICE.

The class in English Literature at Lone Oak College gave the "Court Scene" and "Garden Scene" from "The Merchant of Venice" at the last Thursday meeting of the Literary Society.

The young people sustained their various parts well and the reading of the lines would have done credit to much older and more mature students of the great dramatist. The cast was as follows:

Portia Miss Bessie Orr
Nerissa Miss Mooren Rudolph
Shylock Miss Allie Rudolph
Antonio Julian Laven
Bassanio Keener Rudolph
Gratiano S. J. Billington
Salarino Miss Artie Sanderson
The Duke Miss Mattie Priest
Clerk Miss Goldie Farthing

The class is anticipating the pleasure of a lecture on the play from the Rev. John W. Sykes at an early date.

SMALL BLAZES

THE FIRE DEPARTMENT CALLED OUT TWICE.

The Central fire department was called to the Williams Bicycle store on Jefferson street near Fifth last night about 7 o'clock to extinguish a small blaze originating from a defective flue. The conflagration was extinguished before any damage was done.

The department was again called out this morning about 8 o'clock to Seventh and Adams street where a negro house occupied by a man named Dickerson was blazing slightly. The fire originated from a fine and slight damage was done. The damage will amount to no more than $5.

AUTHORESS DEAD

KILLED HIMSELF.

St. Paul, Minn., April 11—Miss Alex J. Muller, a newspaper writer and author, for love of whom James Younger, a handit, committed suicide, is dead in Oklahoma of consumption. She was 29 years old.

At the time of the suicide of James Younger it was said that one of the causes leading to the act was his inability to marry Miss Muller. She at one time edited a weekly paper in Los Angeles and was lately on the staff of a Salt Lake City newspaper. She was the author of several books.

A DANDY FOR BURNS.

Dr. Borgia, Pena, Ill., writes: "I have used Ballard's Snow Liniment; always recommended it to my friends; as I am confident there is no better made. 'It is a dandy for burns.' Those who live on farms are specially liable to many accidental cuts, burns, bruises, which heal rapidly when Ballard's Snow Liniment is applied. It should always be kept in the house for cases of emergency." 25c, 50c, $1 bottle.

SUCCESSOR FOR BISHOP DUDLEY

A Chicago Man Now Prominently Mentioned.

The Diocesan Council Will Meet at Hopkinsville May 15 to Make a Selection.

LIST OF THOSE CONSIDERED

The Rev. Frank DuMoulin, of Chicago, is the most prominently mentioned of the candidates to succeed the late Thomas U. Dudley as Bishop of the Diocese of Kentucky.

Dr. DuMoulin is now rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church, one of the largest in Chicago, with about 1,500 communicants. He is a son of Bishop DuMoulin, of Niagara, one of the most widely known of the British clergy and has attained a wide reputation for learning and piety.

A large number of men, including a Louisville minister, have been mentioned to succeed Bishop Dudley. It is felt, however, that to give the position to one of the present rectors in the diocese might create dissension among the other parishes. It is stated that all those mentioned, Dr. DuMoulin is at present decidedly the most favorably considered.

For many years it has been the custom to select the Kentucky Bishop from some member of the Virginia clergy. Some seem to think, however, that the infusion of fresh blood into the diocese would be of benefit, and that for this reason Dr. DuMoulin's name had met with especial favor here.

The Diocesan Council, at which Bishop Dudley's successor will be elected, will begin at Hopkinsville May 15.

The business sessions will not begin, however, until Monday, May 16, and the election of a Bishop will then be taken up. The council will be composed of all the clergy of the diocese and three lay delegates from each church.

The official list of the men who will be considered by the council is as follows:

The Rev. Arthur B. Kinsolving, D. D., Brooklyn, N. Y. Christ church.

The Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd, D. D., New York, Secretary Board of Missions.

The Rev. Frank DuMoulin, Chicago, Ill., rector St. Peter's.

The Rev. J. C. Murray, Baltimore, rector St. Michael's and All Angels.

The Rev. E. M. Stires, D. D., New York, rector St. Thomas.

The Rev. Arthur H. Judge, New York, rector St. Matthew's.

The Rev. Carl E. Grammer, D. D., Norfolk, Va., Christ church.

The Rev. Peter C. Sears, Meidan Mass., St. Paul's.

The Rev. R. S. Conpland, Baltimore, Ascension.

The Rev. W. T. Manning, D. D., New York, St. Agnes.

The Rev. Randolph H. McKim, D. D., Washington, Epiphany.

The Rev. James S. Stone, D. D., Chicago, St. James.

The Rev. N. S. Thomas, Philadelphia, Holy Apostle's.

The Rev. R. Cotton Smith, Washington, D. C., St. John's.

HEALTH IS YOUTH.

Disease and Sickness Brings Old Age. Herbine, taken every morning before breakfast, will keep you in robust health, fit you to ward off disease. It cures constipation, biliousness, dyspepsia, fever, skin, liver and kidney complaints. It purifies the blood and clears the complexion. Mrs. D. W. Smith, Whitney, Texas, writes April 3, 1902: "I have used Herbine and find it the best medicine for constipation and liver troubles. It does all you claim for it. I can highly recommend it." 50c a bottle.

A Thoughtless Druggist.

ONLY a thoughtless druggist would offer a preparation without the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher when Castoria is called for; the "delicate, faint and flickering light" that joins baby's life to its devoted parents being too sacred, to the self-respecting druggist, to be trifled with.

For over thirty years Mr. Fletcher has given, and still gives, his personal attention to the preparation of Castoria. It has won the confidence of mothers and physicians everywhere—never harmed the tiniest babe. This cannot be said of Imitations, Counterfeits and the "Just-as-good" rot.

The thoughtless druggist only offers the counterfeit because of a few pennies more profit. Any new preparation can be but an experiment, and they are experiments—mere guess work—irrespective of what their sponsors may say for them. It is Experience of over thirty years, against wild and injudicious Experiment.

CASTORIA

The Kind You Have Always Bought, and which has been in use for over 30 years, has borne the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher and has been made under his personal supervision since its infancy. All Counterfeits, Imitations and "Just-as-good" are but experiments that trifle with and endanger the health of Infants and Children—Experience against Experiment.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is Pleasant. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. It destroys Worms and allays Feverishness. It cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. It relieves Teething Troubles, cures Constipation and Flatulency. It assimilates the Food, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. The Children's Panacea—The Mother's Friend.

DAILY THOUGHT.

Let thy discontents be thy secrets.
—Benjamin Franklin.

THE WEATHER.

Generally fair tonight and Wednesday. Warmer tonight.

The high water scare may be over, but there is yet time to kill off the fruit again.

When Mayor Yeiser appointed the board of public works he evidently forgot to ask how they stood on the street roller question.

The gale that swept down from Nebraska was probably the prelude to Mr. W. J. Bryan's next overture, "Cleveland Indorses Parker."

After the farmers decided not to grow any tobacco, the trust came along and cornered the visible supply. Evidently the trust was not made to get left.

The Panama canal will be entirely paid for by May 15. When Uncle Sam starts out to do a thing he usually does it. This is one of the things, however, which Colombia does not have to learn.

Texas objects to Mr. Hearst because he parts his hair in the middle. The most universal objection to Mr. Hearst, however, is not because of the external adornments of his dome of thought, but because of the lack of interior furnishings.

Gov. Jeff Davis, the anomaly of Arkansas, says he will recommend that the sentence against Caleb Powers be carried out—that he "ought to be hanged on general principles." Powers is to be congratulated over the fact that his principles are such that Gov. Davis disapproves of them.

A Lexington jury has decided that holding an autopsy without authority does not expose a doctor to any liability for damages. This seems to be sensible enough. Autopsies are held for the benefit of humanity, and it would be a difficult matter to convince any intelligent jury that one damaged anybody.

The enterprising citizens of St. Louis are to set apart one day to be known as "house cleaning" day and every person in the future Great is to clean front and back yards in honor of the exposition crowds. There are a lot of other cities that could well afford a "house cleaning" day, although they aren't going to have a world's fair.

Isn't it about time something is done towards cleaning up the city? Is there a single city official who will claim that a city the size of Paducah never gets dirty, or that Paducah isn't dirty, and very dirty? Is there one who will contend that anything has been, or is being done, to have it cleaned? There are no sanitary inspectors, and no efforts have been made to get any. The public health is of more importance than a lot of other things our public officials waste time on, but it seems to receive little attention, if any.

A brilliant idea seems to have struck the mayor. According to a report in the daily papers he has ascertained that the insurance companies made money in Illinois last year, and has sent to the state insurance commissioner for a report to find out if they didn't make money in Kentucky, too. His object is not clear, but of course he is doing the proper thing. Illinois is not Kentucky, however, and Kentucky is not Paducah. The companies may have made money in Kentucky taking the state as a whole, but they haven't raised rates in the state as a whole. There is no doubt that they haven't made any money in Paducah, and no doubt as to why it was. What the mayor intends to do when he gets the information is not stated. Possibly he intends to order off the "pink slip."

The city should sustain the city engineer in his controversies with contractors on public works. If it had done this when Broadway was paved, it would have saved the city about $7,000. The trouble was that the city officials sided with the contractors in everything that came up, despite the objections of the city engineer and city inspector, and as a result the contractor got extra pay for a lot of things not contemplated in the contract, and despite the fact that the street has never been received by the city to this good day. The attitude of the city of Paducah towards some contractors has ever been to the detriment of the tax payers. It is time to stop. In the present disagreement resulting in a suspension of work and leaving the public subject to the inconveniences of having a much used block torn up, the city engineer says that the contract calls for certain things, and these who know the city engineer know that he wouldn't say it if he didn't know what he was talking about. The city should uphold him in everything he does, and if the contractor is entitled to anything extra, let him go to the courts to collect it.

SLIGHT DAMAGE

Tennessee and City of Memphis Meet in a Bend.

Were Hinging the Shore to Escape the Gale—No Serious Loss.

The packet Tennessee collided with the packet City of Memphis Saturday night in Tennessee river about 8:30 o'clock, eight miles above the city, but fortunately the damage was slight, and no fatalities resulted.

It is infrequent that a head-on steamboat collision occurs, and in this instance the collision was due entirely to the high winds which prevailed.

Captain S. K. Hale, of the Tennessee, stated this morning that the collision was due entirely to the high winds, as both boats were "cutting the willows" on the Livingston county side, and when they came around the bend, did not see each other in time to prevent the collision.

It seems that the Tennessee was hugging the willows, to use Captain Hale's expression, as was also the Memphis, both as a protection from wind, and when the bend was reached both pilots saw the danger and began whistling. They did all in their power to avert the impending collision but were unsuccessful in their efforts. The boats met bow to bow and the Memphis got a nasty blow on the right hand side but a heavy tarpaulin prevented the water from interfering with her continuing the trip to St. Louis, but the Tennessee had to return to Paducah for repairs.

Captain Hale estimated the damage to his boat in the neighborhood of $500 while the Memphis was damaged to the extent of only $50. Both captains agree that the accident was due to the high winds and was unavoidable. Pilot Ed. Pell was on the Memphis and B. Carroll on the Tennessee. A hole 8x10 was stove in the Tennessee but only a small hole was punched in the Memphis. The boat will go out in a few days.

CIRCUIT COURT

Jim Taylor on Trial Again Today Before Judge Reed.

Prisoners Brought Ont Today and Sentenced By the Court.

Jimmie Taylor is again on trial in circuit court, this time for obtaining money by false pretenses.

Taylor is alleged to have sold a mule for a watch and some other articles. The mule was not the property of the defendant and he was indicted for obtaining money by false pretenses. The evidence had about been concluded at press time and the jury will likely get the case before adjournment.

W. K. Ledbetter has filed a suit against the Paducah Co-operative Co., for $21.85 alleged to be due for timber bought.

The Paducah Brewing Co. has filed a suit against C. H. Averitt for $321.54 alleged to be a balance due on a note.

A motion for a new trial was filed in the case against Elmer E. Davis charged with forgery.

A. J. Reesor, John Williams and Ben F. Humphrey were finally excused as petit jurors this morning.

The case of Walter Hailey against R. B. Phillips was dismissed and settled. He sued the defendant for $35,000 damages for slander.

The following prisoners were brought before the court and sentenced: Fields Gardner, one year for obtaining money by false pretenses; Charles Rogers, house breaking, two years; James Scott, obtaining money, one year; William Harrison, writing and obtaining a forged note, six years; Eli Simms, grand larceny, two years; Alonzo Bradley, obtaining money, one year; John Henry, breaking into box car, two years, and James Smith, maliciously striking, one year.

His Explanation.

"I find you are an attractive fellow, Dickie, you know," she had just remarked, brushing his hair with the lace of her sunshade, "but, really, such a splendidly built young man ought to be ashamed to lie abed till all hours instead of being out taking exercise."

"Oh, I say," he answered, "don't be hard on a chap. Fact is, it's the governor who's responsible for my laziness."

"How's that?" queried she. "Why, you see, it's this way. The old boy got an idea into his noddle some time ago that I was drinking too much, and wanted me to swear off. Couldn't do that, you know, so we compromised on the basis of my not drinking till dinner time."

"Really, Dickie," she laughed, "I don't see what that has to do with it."

"You don't?" he asked, sitting bolt upright. "If a man can't drink until dinner, what's the use of getting up until dinner time?"

A Diving Cat.
A farmer at Ballina, New South Wales, trained a black cat to act as a retriever. The animal was also fond of diving in the sea for fish, and recently it brought out a two-pound mullet. Its career was ended by being swallowed by a shark.

How Walters Measures.
"Now!" said the head waiter, "that man that just went out ain't worth much. 'How do you know?' inquired the favorite customer. 'Oh, it's easy for us waiters to take a man's measure.' 'I suppose you measure him from tip to tip, eh?'—Philadelphia Press.

The Traveler's Pillow.
The fashion of carrying one's own pillow when traveling is being readily adopted by women who spend much of their time as tourists. Sheer linen embroidered with one's monogram is used for the cover, and can be easily laundered. The pillow is of down covered with China silk in any color.

Climate Bad for Sheep.
The fleece of sheep imported from Europe into the West Indies is much affected and after the third generation the wool disappears from the whole body, except over the loins, and the animal then appears like a goat with a dirty doormat on its back.

Eskimo Bible.
The Eskimos now have their own translations of the Bible, which has taken 150 years to complete. The Norwegian pastor, Hans Egede, who went to Greenland in 1721, began the work, which is completed and published by the Bible Society of Denmark.

"The writer feels that a word from him regarding the value of Paine's Celery Compound and the good it has done him will not be out of place.

"Last spring my condition was such as to occasion some alarm. My work exposed me to all kinds of weather and the effect was plainly felt. I could not feel like working, being very heavy and dull. My system was entirely out of order.

"As your remedy was very highly recommended by friends, I commenced its use, and could hardly credit the improvement brought about immediately. My strength came back and if my restored health had been accomplished by a doctor he would not have been a better friend in this community. But I give all the praise to Paine's Celery Compound."—S. Frank Butler, Moore, Pa.

Paine's Celery Compound makes people well. It is the only Spring Remedy that purifies without weakening. It feeds strength to the nerves and gives buoyant vitality and health to the whole system.

It stops at once the drain on the nervous system, expels harmful humors from the blood and increases its volume and its strength giving qualities.

"I suffered from spring depression, was tired, worn out and nervous. I obtained no satisfactory rest from my sleep and my appetite was poor. I was induced to try Paine's Celery Compound and the beneficial action was instantaneous. I am well and feeling all right. I am satisfied that I saved a sick spell."

DIED IN ATLANTA.

A POPULAR FORMER PADUCAH GIRL, MRS. C. C. NOTT, DIES OF PERITONITIS.

News has reached the city of the death at her home in Atlanta, Ga., of Mrs. Georgia Moss Nott, formerly of this city, as the result of an operation.

Mrs. Nott was Miss Georgia Moss of this city, and was married here nine years ago to Mr. Nott, who was at the time connected with a soda water firm, and is now district manager at Atlanta of the National Cash Register company. They have resided in various places since their marriage and had recently moved to Atlanta. Mrs. Nott's mother, Mrs. Laura Moss, of Paducah, had been with her daughter since January.

She left beside her mother four brothers: Messrs. Zeller, Over, Frank and Emmett Moss. She was a cousin of Messrs. Edward, Richard and Harry Ashbrook, of this place. The remains were buried at Atlanta.

The remains of Alice, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Halpin of North Fourth street, who died several months ago, were disinterred from Oak Grove and taken to Covington, Ky., today for burial.

NO PLACE

THE LAZY ONES MUST STAND ASIDE.

That dull heavy feeling from coffee may not amount to much in itself but it is a great obstacle in the way of fame and fortune for it kills ambition and makes one lazy and finally sick.

The successful men or women must first conquer themselves. The way to conquer that dull, stupid feeling is to get out of 10 to 15 to pay a little attention to proper food, coffee in particular will dull the senses and make one feel lazy and stupid after the first effects of the cup have worn off an hour or so after drinking it.

"I was a lover of coffee," says a New York man. "It seemed to me breakfast was nothing without it but I noticed an hour or so after breakfast a dull, stupid feeling came over me accompanied frequently by nausea."

"Thinking perhaps it was caused by coffee I wanted to make sure of it so I gave up the use of coffee and drank Postum in its place. My old trouble disappeared and I learned to look forward to my Postum with as much eagerness as I used to look to coffee and instead of being dull in its effect, Postum is very healthy and I feel 'fit as a fiddle' right along. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason why Postum helps toward fame and fortune when used in place of coffee, the drug drink.

COUNTY ROADS

SUPERVISOR JOHNSON HAS NOT DECIDED WHAT HE WILL DO YET.

County Road Supervisor E. B. Johnson has not yet decided what he will do in regard to having a vote taken on a $100,000 bond issue to repair county roads. He will in a few days be ready to announce his plans. Little work will probably be done in the roads this summer, as there is only $10,000 in sight, while about $27,000 was spent on the roads last summer.

DEATH IN ROWLANDTOWN.

George M. Conte, of Rowlandtown, aged 53, died this morning of pneumonia. The burial will take place tomorrow at the Hoff Grave yards.

SUNDAY SERVICES

Revival Begins at Broadway Methodist Church.

Rev. William Bourquin Will Take Charge of Evangelical Lutheran Church in May.

A letter from Rev. William Bourquin, of Millersburg, Ohio, who has accepted the pastorate of the German Evangelical church, states that he will arrive here to assume charge the last Sunday in May, the 29th. He will visit relatives in Ohio before coming to Paducah.

Rev. J. P. Lowery, of Little Rock, Ark., began a series of meetings at the Broadway Methodist church yesterday. He preached morning and evening and awakened much interest. There will be services every afternoon this week at 3 o'clock and in the evening at 7:45.

Rev. M. M. Benton, arch deacon of the Kentucky diocese of the Episcopal church, preached two sermons yesterday at Grace Episcopal church. Mr. Benton has frequently filled the pulpit of Grace church, and met with his customary welcome.

Rev. Dr. Hosker, of the Louisville Theological seminary, preached twice yesterday at the First Presbyterian church to good congregations and made a fine impression.

The Union Christian Endeavor society will meet tonight at the First Cumberland Presbyterian church.

There were thirty members formally received into the First Baptist church yesterday.

WALL SELLS OUT

DISPOSES OF HIS INTEREST IN THE MAYFIELD MESSENGER.

A deal was closed today by which Mr. J. R. Lemon, formerly of Paducah, purchased the interest of Mr. W. K. Wall in the Mayfield Messenger, and was placed in complete control of the paper. The deal had been on for several days, and it is probable Mr. Wall will leave Mayfield.

Mr. Chas. Lemon, who has been here on the Ledger, leaves this afternoon for Mayfield to take his former position on the Messenger.

A HOLE IN HER STOCKING.

Latest Device of the Girl Who Wants to Be Admired.

She was most fashionably gowned; every particle of her attire was up to date, and every woman turned to give her a second look. As she came to a crossing, however, she lifted her silk skirt a little higher, and, oh, horror! there was a hole in her black silk stocking, disclosing the white flesh of her dainty ankle beneath. One could not help seeing it.

"Gracious!" said I to my wife, "isn't it a shame that a young lady who is so well dressed should be so careless as to go about with a hole in her stocking?"

"Oh, you stupid," replied my wife, "that's just like you men. Don't you know that there is a purpose in that? That young lady has put that hole in her stocking purposely."

"Oh, nonsense!" I said.

"No nonsense about it. That young lady prides herself on her small ankle and she is bound to attract attention to it. For that reason she has made a hole in her stocking, and she knows that every time she lifts her skirt just a wee little bit persons are going to see that hole and admire that ankle."

"Well, she certainly has a pretty ankle," I said.

"Sir! how dare you?" almost shrieked my wife.

I said no more, and the subject of holes in stockings was not discussed any further.—New York Herald.

NEWS OF THE RIVERS.

Observations taken at 7 a. m. River 39.7 on the gauge, a fall of 0.9 in the last 24 hours. Weather clear and warm. Winds from the south.

The Charleston is still here and will go out today, probably, for Tennessee river.

The Joe Fowler left on time this morning for Evansville.

The Peters Lee passed up from Memphis to Cincinnati this morning with a good trip.

The Tennessee is laying here repairing and will not be able to go out again for several days. It will require half a week to repair the break in her hull.

The Battorff left at noon for Clarksville with a good trip.

The Victor will go into Cumberland river today after ties.

Louis Adams this morning brought out of Ohio river 71 fine head of cattle to ship to St. Louis.

The Penguin arrived from Cumberland yesterday with ties.

The Mary Hill arrived today from Duck river with ties and lumber.

The Duffey arrived today from Cumberland river with a tow of ties.

The Russell Lort is due tomorrow from Tennessee river with ties.

The Ten Broeck is still laying here repairing her doctor.

The big Sprague passed up yesterday afternoon with a mixed tow. She had in the tow one small tug boat and the tug had battered a great hole in a barge. The hole was above the water line and did not endanger the boat.

The Heatherington arrived this morning from Tennessee river with a good trip. She will go to Cairo from here and will at that city be turned over to the combine. She belongs to the combine but had been chartered out by the Pillsbury-Watkins Tie Co.

The public will be more than delighted to learn that the report relative to the Island Queen, the big excursion steamer, was not such as reported. She will be here on Wednesday night and will give the public another opportunity to enjoy a good evening excursion.

BARBER SHOP WITHOUT TALK.

Only Deaf Mutes Employed in New York Establishment.

There is one barber shop in the city where persons who have a predilection against talkative waiters of the razor and scissors can go without being bored, says the New York Telegram. It is a barber shop where all the operatives, including the "boss," are deaf and dumb.

It has not been opened very long, and at first two of the four journey-men employed in the place could talk. They made up in this respect for the silence of the others to such an extent that the boss, not being able to hear what they were saying and being suspicious that they were taking advantage of their associates' affliction to say mean things about them, let them go.

In their places are two graduates of a deaf mutes' training school, the proprietor himself being one.

The barbers seem to have no difficulty in understanding the wants of their patrons, and they can also make the patrons understand them by pantomime. But in case any difficulty should arise in this respect a small slate and pencil hangs by the side of each chair.

One advantage the operatives have over their fellows is that they can make comments about their patrons in the sign language without the latter knowing it.

TRAINING OF A PRINCE.

Present King of Italy Was Sternly Brought Up.

Everybody who remembers the King of Italy as a lad should remember the name of Col. Osio, for many years his "governor." The prince of Naples, as the king was then called, was a very delicate boy and he was treated by Col. Osio with almost Spartan severity, which was much criticized at the time. Nevertheless, the king cherished a kindly feeling for him, as was proved on the occasion of the birth of little Princess Yolande, by his conferring on his ex-governor the hereditary title of count, with the privilege of adding the pale blue of the house of Savoy to his coat of arms. The following anecdote illustrates Col. Osio's methods with his royal pupil: One day he received a request from a well-known personage for the autograph of the young prince, to be added to a collection containing that of his father and grandfather. The prince was about to comply when the colonel sharply forbade him, adding: "What value has the signature of an insignificant boy, who does not even know how to write properly?"

JACK LONDON'S CAREER AS A WAR CORRESPONDENT ALMOST CUT SHORT.

To a Louisville woman Jack London, the American writer, owes a night spent in safe quarters of the Presbyterian mission near Seoul, Korea, and to her he owes perhaps his life. The woman is Miss Florence Straffer, who was born and reared in Louisville, but who is now a missionary in Korea, says the Courier-Journal.

London, who made a high hit with "The Call of the Wild" and other stories, was sent to Korea and Japan as a war correspondent. His reputation had gained the place for him and great things were expected from him in his descriptions of the battles between the Japanese and Russians. The first thing he did was to take some photographs of the Japanese fortifications and he was promptly made a prisoner aboard one of the Japanese warships. He was taken to an uninhabited island and put ashore to get along as best he could, although he was left with plenty to eat. He was finally picked up and landed on the coast of Korea. The country was hostile and London was forced to hide.

Reaching the Presbyterian mission, about 100 miles from Seoul, London was invited in by Miss Straffer, and he spent the night in the mission, where he was safe. The next morning he went on his way and finally reached a safe point. Miss Straffer, whose parents and family live here, wrote to them, giving a description of the experiences of London as he told them to her when he was at the mission house. The letter was received yesterday, having been two months in its journey across the Pacific.

LAX-FOS For the Kidney's, Liver and Stomach.

AS OLD AS THE PYRAMIDS

That blood poison existed among the ancients has been proven beyond question. It has been traced back thousands of years, and is as old as the Pyramids. This blighting curse has been handed down from nation to nation and from individual to individual till it has spread to all parts of the world.

Contagious blood poison, as it is called in modern times, begins with a small sore or ulcer through which the virus enters the blood. This is followed by inflammation and swelling of the glands of the throat, and as the disease takes a deeper hold and the blood becomes more thoroughly infected, the hair and eyebrows drop out, the skin is spotted with copper-colored blotches, the bones and muscles ache, and it seems to the victim of this monster scourge there is not a sound spot in the whole body.

The horror of this awful disease can never be told. The one who contracts it suffers in body and mind, and if the poison is not eradicated transmits the taint to his children, and Contagious Blood Poison thus becomes responsible for many of the ills of childhood—Skin Eruptions, Catarrhal Troubles, Sore Eyes, Scalp Disease, White Swelling, Scrofula and others just as bad. S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier and tonic, has long been recognized as a radical and safe cure for Contagious Blood Poison. It counteracts the deadly virus and cleanses and purifies the diseased blood, and under its tonic effects the general health improves and soon all signs of blood poison are gone. The strong mineral remedies, Mercury and Potash, which are so often prescribed for the disease, dry up the sores, skin eruptions, and all external signs, but leave the stomach and digestion ruined and the system in such condition that the disease usually returns in worse form than ever.

S. S. S. is guaranteed a purely vegetable remedy. $1.00 is offered for proof that it contains a single mineral ingredient. If you have blood poison write for a report, book, describing the different stages and giving all the symptoms, and directions for treating one's self at home. Our physicians will furnish information or advice wanted free of charge.

VARIABLE ROUTES TO FLORIDA.
In addition to the numerous facilities provided for the comfort and pleasure of Florida travelers, the Southern Railway and Queen & Crescent Route have this year added a new and unusually attractive feature in the form of a variable route tourist ticket, by means of which, at a slight additional expense, the going trip may be made via Chattanooga, Atlanta and Macon and the return trip via Savannah, Columbia, Asheville, Hot Springs and Knoxville—or vice versa—including stop off, if desired, at all of these and other points, so that a passenger may visit Lookout Mountain, the beautiful "Sapphire Country" the "Land of the Sky" and the principal commercial centers and tourist resorts en route.

The "Chicago and Florida Special" a superb train composed of through Pullman Drawing Room sleepers, composite car and dining car, leaves Cincinnati every evening except Sunday, via the Queen & Crescent Route. A handsome observation sleeper leaving Louisville at 7:35 p. m., is attached to the "Special" at Lexington and this train then runs through solid via Southern railway from Chattanooga to Jacksonville and St. Augustine, arriving at 9:30 p. m. and 10:35 p. m., respectively the next evening, making connection at Jacksonville for interior Florida points.

The "Florida Limited" leaves Cincinnati every morning the year around via the Queen & Crescent Route connecting at Lexington with the Southern railway trains from Louisville. This train also runs through solid to Jacksonville and St. Augustine via Southern Railway from Chattanooga carrying sleeping cars, observation and dining car, arriving at 9:45 a. m. and 11:15 a. m., respectively.

The Q. & C. "Special" leaving Cincinnati every evening carries Pullman sleepers through to Jacksonville via Southern railway from Harrison Jet, through Asheville, the "Land of the Sky" and Savannah. This train also connects at Lexington with train from Louisville.

There is of course corresponding service via each of these routes on the return trip. Either of the following booklets will be sent on receipt of two cent stamp "Land of the Sky," "Winter Homes, containing hotel list," "Hunting and Fishing in the South," containing game laws, Ouba folder, etc.

Complete information as to rates, schedules, etc., will be gladly furnished on application to C. H. Hungerford, D. P. A. Southern railway, 234 Fourth Avenue, Louisville, Ky.

The Gentleman From Indiana

By BOOTH TARKINGTON

Copyright, 1899, by Doubleday & McClure Co.
Copyright, 1902, by McClure, Phillips & Co.

The editor blushed. "Why, who would, dear, if not a woman or a speculator, and I'm not a speculator, and neither are you, and that's the reason you didn't think of them. So, Mr. Parker, as there is so much pressure, and if you don't mind continuing to act as reporter as well as compositor until after tomorrow, and if it isn't too wet—you must have an umbrella—would it be too much bother if you went around to all the shops—stores, I mean—to all the grocers and the butchers and the leather place we passed, the tannery, and if there's one of those places where they bring cattle, would it be too much to ask you to stop there—and at the drug store—and you must take a blank book and a sharpened pencil, and write your price everything, please, and let down how much things are?"

Orders received, the impetuous Parker was departing on the instant when the editor stopped him with a little cry. "But you haven't any umbrella!" And she forced her own, a slender wand, upon him. "It bore a comically wrought handle, and its fabric was of glistening silk. The foreman, unable to decline it, thanked her awkwardly, and as she turned to speak to Fiske he bolted out of the door and ran down the steps without unfolding the umbrella, and then as he made for Mr. Martin's emporium he buttoned it securely under his long Fiske Albert, determined that not a drop of water should touch him and ruin so delicate a thing. Thus he carried it, triumphantly dry, through the course of his reportings of that day.

When he had gone the editor laid her hand on Fiske's arm. "Dear," she said, "do you think you'd take cold if you went over to the hotel and made a note of all the arrivals for the last week and the departures too? I noticed that Mr. Harkness always filed two or three sticks, isn't it—with them and things about them, and somehow it 'reads' very nicely. You must ask the landlord all about them, and if there aren't any, we can take up the same amount of space in the dull times, just as he used to. You see, I've read the Herald faithfully. Isn't it a good thing I always subscribed for it?" She patted Fiske's cheek with her soft hand and laughed gaily into his mild, vague old eyes. "I won't be the scamp to 'fill up' much longer. I have plans, gentlemen, and before long we will print news, and we must buy 'plate matter' instead of patent insides; and I had a talk with the Associated Press people in 'Hoffet', but that's for after while. And I went to the hospital this morning before I left. They wouldn't let me see him again, but they told me all about him, and he's better, and I got Tom to go to the jail, and he saw some of those beasts, and I can do a column of description besides an editorial about them, and I will be force enough to suit 'em. You will believe that. And I've been talking to Senator Harkness, which is much stupider—and I think I can do an article on national politics, yet, and I'm— She broke off suddenly. "There, I think we can get out tomorrow's number without any trouble. By the time you get back from the hotel, father, I'll have half my way-stuff written—written up," I mean. Take your big umbrella and go, dear, and please ask at the express office if a typewriter has come in."

She laughed again with sheer delight, like a child, and ran to a corner and got the cotton umbrella and placed it in the old man's hand. As he reached the door she called after him, "Wait!" and went to him and knelt before him and, with the humblest, proudest grace in the world, turned up his trousers to keep them from the mud. Miss Schofield had never considered Mr. Fiske a particularly sacred sort of person, but he did from that moment. The old man made some faint protest at the girl's action, but she answered: "The great ladies used to buckle the Chevalier Bayard's spurs for him, and you're a great deal older than the Chevalier. You haven't any rubbers! I don't believe any of you have any rubbers!" And not until both Fiske and Mr. Schofield had promised to purchase overshoes at once and in the meantime not to step in any puddles would she let the former depart upon his errand. He crossed the square with the strangest, faintest step ever seen in Plattville. Solomon Tibbs had a warm argument with Miss Selma as to his identity, Miss Selma maintaining that the figure under the big umbrella—only the legs and coat tails were visible to them—was that of a stranger, probably an Englishman.

In the Herald office the editor turned, smiling, to the paper's remaining vessel. "Mr. Schofield, I heard some talk in town of an old company that had been formed to prospect for horses in Curlew county. Do you know anything about it?"

Ross, sufficed with honor, terror, and possessed by a sweet distress at finding himself left alone with the lady, looked at the wall and replied, "Oh, it's that Eph Watt's foolishness."

"Do you know if they have begun to dig for it yet?"

"Ah, ah!" said Ross.

"Have they begun the diggings yet?"

"No, ma'am, I think not. They've got a contraption fixed up about three miles south. I don't reckon they've begun yet, hardly. They're getting the machinery in place. I heard Eph say they'd begin to bore—dig. I mean, ma'am; I meant to say dig." He stopped, utterly confused and unhappy, and she understood his main purpose and knew him for a gentleman whom she liked.

"You mustn't be too much surprised," she said, "but in spite of my ignorance about such things I mean to devote a good deal of space to the oil company. It may come to be of great importance to Curlew. We won't go into it in tomorrow's paper beyond an item or so, but do you think you could possibly find Mr. Watts and ask him for some information as to their progress and it would be too much trouble for him to call here tomorrow afternoon or the day after? I want him to give me an interview if he will. Tell him, please, he will very greatly oblige us."

"Oh, he'll come all right," answered her companion quickly. "I'll take Tibbs buggy and go down there right off. Eph won't lose no time getting here." And with this encouraging assurance he was tying forth when he, like the others, was detained by her solicitous care. She was a born mother. He protested that in the buggy he would be perfectly sheltered. Besides, there wasn't another umbrella about the place. He liked to get wet anyway, had always loved rain. The end of it was that he went away in a sort of tremor wearing his rain cloak over his shoulders, which garment, as it covered his owner completely when she wore it, hung almost to his knees. He dashed around a corner, and there, breathing deeply, tenderly removed it, then borrowing paper and cord at a neighboring store wrapped it neatly and stole back to the printing office, on the ground floor of the Herald building, and laid the package in the hands of that Tipworthy, charging him to care for it as for his own life and not to open it, but if the lady so much as set one foot out of doors before his return to hand it to her with the message, "He borrowed another of J. Harkness'."

Left alone, the lady went to the desk and stood for a time looking gravely at Harkness' chair. She touched it gently, as she had touched it once before that morning, and then she spoke to it as if he were sitting there and as she would not have spoken had he been sitting there.

"You didn't want gratitude, did you?" she whispered, with sad lips. Soon she smiled at the blue ribbon, pulled the chair gaily on the back and, seizing upon pencil and pad, dashed into her work with rare energy. She bent low over the desk, her pencil moving rapidly. She seemed loath to pause for breath. She had covered many sheets when Fiske returned, and as he came in softly in order not to disturb her she was so deeply engrossed that she did not hear him, nor did she look up when Parker entered, but pursued the formulation of her fast flying ideas with the same single purpose and abandon. So the two men sat and waited while their carefulness wrote absently. At last she glanced up and made a little startled exclamation at seeing them there and then gave them every greeting. Each placed several scribbled sheets before her, and she, having first assured herself that Fiske had brought his overshoes, and having expressed a fear that Mr. Parker had found her umbrella too small, as he looked damp (and indeed he was damp), cried praise on their notes and offered the reporters great applause.

"It is all so splendid!" she cried. "How could you do it so quickly? And in the rain too! It is just what we need. I've done most of the things I mentioned. I think, and made a draft of some plans for hereafter. Doesn't it seem to you that it would be a good notion to have a woman's page—'For Feminine Readers' or 'Of Interest to Women'—once a week?"

"A woman's page!" exclaimed Fiske. "I could never have thought of that. Could you, Mr. Parker?"

Before that day was over system had been introduced, and the Herald was running on it, and all that warm rainy afternoon the editor and Fiske worked in the editorial rooms. Parker and Fiske and Mr. Schofield (after his return with the items and a courteous message from Ephraim Watts) bent over the forms downstairs, and Uncle Xenophon was cleaning the storeroom and scrubbing the floor. An extraordinary number of errands took the various members of the printing force up to see the editor in chief, literally to see the editor in chief. It was hard to believe that the presence had not dawned, hard to keep believing without the repeated testimony of sight that the dingy room upstairs was actually the setting for their jewel, and a jewel they swore she was. The printers came down chuckling and gurgling after each interview. It was partly the thought that she belonged to the Herald, their paper. Once Ross, chuckling, looked up and caught the foreman glibly to himself.

"What in the name of common sense you laughing at, Cate?" he asked.

"What are you laughing at?" rejoined the other.

"I dunno."

The day wore on, wet and dreary outside, but all within the Herald's bosom was sunny and busy and murmurous with the healthy thrum of life and prosperity renewed. Toward 6 o'clock, system accomplished, the new guiding spirit was deliberating on a policy, as Harkness would concede a policy were he there, when Minnie Harkness ran joyously up the stairs, plunged into the room waterproofed and radiant and caught her friend in her eager arms and put an end to policy for that day.

But policy and labor did not end at twilight every day. There were evenings, as in the time of Harkness, when lamps shone from the upper windows of the Herald building; for the little editor worked hard, and sometimes she worked late; she always worked early. She made some mistakes at first and one or two blunders which she took much more seriously than any one else did. But she found a remedy for all such results of her inexperience, and she developed experience. She set at her task with the energy of her youthfulness and no limit to her ambition, and she felt that Harkness had prepared the way for a wide expansion of the paper's interests, wider than he knew. She brought a fresh point of view to operate in a situation where he had fallen perhaps too much in the rut, and she watched every chance with a keen eye and looked ahead of her with clear foresight. What she waited and yearned for and dreamed was the time when a copy of the new Herald should be placed in the trembling hands of the man who lay in the town hospital. Then she felt if he, unaware of her identity as he was and as he was to be kept, should place everything in her hands unreservedly, that would be a tribute to her work. And how hard she would labor to deserve it!

After a time she began to see that as her representative and editor of the Herald she had become a factor in district politics. It took her breath, but with a gasp of delight, for there was something she wanted to do.

Harkness' death had lifted his head, and the friends of his stricken enemy felt that they and the cause that Harkness had labored for were lost with the leader, for the old ring that the Herald had beaten rallied around McConne. "The boys were in the again." Every one knew that Harkness, a dull but honest man, the most available material that Harkness had been able to land, was already beaten. If John Harkness had been "on the ground to work for him," it was said, Harkness could have received the nomination again, but as matters stood he was beaten and beaten badly, and Rodney McConne would sit in congress, for nomination meant election.

But one afternoon the Harkness forces, demoralized, broken, hopeless, woke up to find that they had a leader. There was a political conference at Judge Harkness' house. The politicians descended sadly at the gate from the omnibuses that had met the afternoon train—Hoswell and Keating, two gentlemen of Amos, and Benson and Shannon, two others of Gaines county, to confer with Warren Smith, Tom Martin, Harkness and Harkness' representatives, Fiske and the editor of the Herald. They entered the house gloomily, and the conference began in dejected monosyllables. But presently Minnie Harkness, sitting on the porch pretending to sew, heard Harkness' voice, clear, soft and trembling a little with excitement. She talked for only two or three minutes, but what she said seemed to stir up great commotion among the others. All the voices burst forth at once in exclamations, almost shouts. Then Minnie saw her father, seated near the window, rise and strike the table a great blow with his clenched fist. "Will I make the nominating speech?" he cried. "I'd walk from here to Hohen and back again to do it!"

"We'll swim out!" exclaimed Mr. Keating of Amos. "The wonderful thing is that nobody thought of this before. There are just two difficulties—Harkness and our man himself. He wouldn't let his name be used against Keating. Therefore we've got to work it quietly and keep it from him."

"It's not too difficult," said the speaker's colleague, Mr. Hoswell. "All we've got to do is to spring it as a surprise on the convention. Some of the old crowd themselves will be swept along with us when we make our nomination, and you want to stuff your ears with cotton. You see, all we need to do is to pass the word quietly among the Harkness people and the shanty McConne people. He'll get wind of it, but you can't fix men in this district against us when they know what we mean to do now. On the first ballot we'll give Harkness every vote he'd have got if he'd run against McConne alone. It will our heads clear and our arms strong? If you will—then— She began to blush furiously, and her voice trembled, but she lifted the glass high over her head and cried bravely, "Here's to our candidate!"

The big men, towering over her, threw back their heads and quaffed the gentle liquor to the last drop. Then they sent up the first shout of the campaign and cheered till the rafters rang.

"My friends," said Mr. Keating as he and Hoswell and the men from Gaines drove away from the brick house—"my friends, here is where I begin the warmest hustling I ever did. Now, I guess we all think this is a great thing!"

"It is a glorious idea," said Mr. Benson. "The name of Harkness!" Keating drowned the oratory: "But that isn't all. That little girl wants it to succeed, and that settles it. He goes."

That night Mr. Parker, at work in the printing office, perceived the figure of Mr. Tipworthy beckoning him mysteriously from the pavement.

Use Shoffner's Sure Cure

The Great Tonic and Blood Purifier—Cures Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Catarrh.

It allays all inflammation of the Stomach and Bowels. Heals the irritations, restores the Liver and Kidneys to a healthy action, thoroughly destroying all effects of Indigestion, such as Sick Headache, Sourness of the Stomach, Regurgitation—Spitting of Food, Palpitation of the Heart, Heartburn, Fullness of the Stomach, Flatulency, Shortness of Breath, Nervousness, Diarrhoea, Constipation, etc.

SUFFERED ALL HER LIFE.

Miss Emma Melvaine Could Find No Relief Until She Took Shoffner's Sure Cure.

Ovington, Tenn., March 27, 1901. Mr. M. L. Shoffner, Shoffner-Hayes Med. Co.

To give you a full description how I suffered from indigestion would make a book when written out. Will tell you as near as I can in a few words as possible. I have suffered with indigestion for years, in fact, nearly all my life, but did not know it, until four years past, and my physician told me. He put me on malted milk and a tonic which did me no good, and I lived on the milk one month without missing a meal. I was almost starved and commenced to get very thin. Then thought it would finally kill me. Up to November 1900, I suffered fearfully, and sometimes I thought every breath would be the last one. I was so weak that I could walk but a few steps without resting, and vomited day and night, was so badly swollen it was painful to move. My limbs and back hurt me so I couldn't rest day or night. I am sure nobody ever suffered more than I did with indigestion. I had heard of your medicine, Shoffner's Sure Cure, but of course had no faith in it like all others, but in November I decided to try it. I commenced to try it on Friday at dinner and by Sunday dinner had taken six doses, and went down to dinner and ate just what I wanted of everything on the table, and it didn't hurt me at all. I have taken four bottles and am stronger and feel better than I have in years. I tell everybody to take your medicine and advertise it all can. You can use what you please of this letter, and I sincerely hope it will help you sell your medicine. I can truthfully say it is fine for indigestion. I hope God may spare you to live and make this medicine always. With best wishes all along through life for you.

MISS EMMA MELVAINE.

ATTRACTIVE PLAY

PRESENTED BY HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS SATURDAY NIGHT.

One of the cleverest amateur entertainments ever given in Paducah was the little play called "Mistress and Maid," presented by pupils of the high school at Red Men's hall, on North Fourth street, Saturday evening. The play was written by two of the young ladies of the high school, Misses Carrie Hum and Estelle Hale, assisted by Miss Susanna Kirk, teacher in literature.

The scheme of the play is the home of a wealthy college girl who is entertaining a house party of her school mates. Two other college girls in disguise, Dorothy Doran and Jean Dagmar, have hired as servants in the house, to settle the problem of servant and mistress. They are the two heroines of the play and the parts were well taken by Miss Mae Ammon and Miss Claire St. John. The other principal characters of the play, all of which were cleverly presented are: Miss Cynthia Wyatt, the hostess of the party, Miss Lettie Powell, Mrs. Kennedy, her mother, Miss Erma Reitz, Dr. Kennedy, her step father, Mr. Pearson Lockwood, Arthur Kennedy, her stepbrother, Mr. Warren Sights and Robert Vance, her suitor, who falls in love with Dorothy Doran, Mr. Vaughan Dahney.

Miss Ammon sang several attractive solos, showing a voice of unusual sweetness and possibilities. Mr. Warren Sights offered several clever toasts and played his part with great ease and naturalness.

Others who took part in the play were: Misses Estelle Hale, Blanch Street, Mamie O'Brien, Mary McGuire, Bessie Hall, Miss Carrie Ham was musical director, Misses Bess Hall and Estelle Hale stage managers, Miss Elsie Hoeewischer treasurer and doorkeeper, Misses Beatie Smalley, Clara Richardson, Lily Hobson and Corinne Winstead, ushers.

The house was crowded to its utmost capacity, and a nice sum was realized for the equipment of a young ladies basket ball team for the high school, which was the purpose of the entertainment.

WANTS DIVORCE

CLAY LOFTON SUED BY HIS WIFE THIS MORNING.

Ruth Lofton today filed suit against her husband, Clay Lofton, asking for a divorce, alimony, maintenance during the pendency of the action, and the custody of the five children. She alleges drunkenness and cruel and inhuman treatment. The defendant was until recently a member of the Paducah fire department.

ELKS BUILDING

THE COMMITTEE WILL HOLD A MEETING THIS EVENING.

A meeting of the Elks building committee will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock at Attorney J. C. Flournoy's office. The committee has not held a meeting for some time, owing to no quorum being present, but it is hoped this time to have a full attendance and transact business.

Various Lungs.

Three human lungs lie next one another in the anatomical museum at Edinburgh university. The first is that of an Eskimo and is snow-white, in life this would, of course, be ruddy from the presence of blood. The third is that of a coal miner and is coal black. The intermediate one is that of a town dweller and is a dirty slate-gray, as are the lungs of all dwellers in cities at this moment.

THERE TO STAY

Efforts to Dislodge the Sand Digger Fruitless.

Mr. Fitzpatrick Goes to Evansville to Secure a New Digger.

The sand digger has been aground opposite the city for three days, and unless Mr. P. D. Fitzpatrick, of the Paducah Sand and Gravel Co., succeeds in securing another sand digger at Evansville, where he has gone for that purpose, Paducah contractors and builders will be without material indefinitely.

The sand digger had been working opposite the city for the past several days, and was blown into the Illinois shore by the winds Saturday. All the efforts of the Mary N. were unsuccessful in pulling the boat off. Mr. Fitzpatrick saw the necessity of securing another sand digger and immediately left for Evansville to secure one. The local digger may be aground for weeks as it cannot be floated until there is another big rise.

POLICE BOARD

IT WILL TONIGHT INSPECT THE PLANS OF NEW FIRE STATION.

The board of fire and police commissioners will meet tonight in Mayor Yeiser's office to inspect the plans of Architect B. B. Davis for the new fire station at Jones and Tenth streets, and if the plans are adopted, will immediately advertise for bids on the station. It is estimated that the contracts will require about one week to place bids and by the 17th the bids will all be opened and the contract awarded.

"I want to see all haste possible exercised in regard to the matter of improving the fire department," Chief Woods stated this morning, "and am anxious to see the two new departments running. The city is not well protected now but with the increased facilities we will be enabled to handle any fire with much more promptness than heretofore. The fire and police commissioners are doing all they can to have the improvements made immediately."

POSTOFFICE NOTES

CUPOL NEARLY OFF—EXAMINATION WEDNESDAY.

The cupolo is nearly off the government building. Contractor Bailey having made quick work of it. It is not certain whether it will improve the appearance of the building or not. At any rate the government architects refused to countermand the order to take it off.

Civil Service Examiner Fred Ashton will hold an unusual examination at the government building Wednesday. He has received instructions that there will be an examination here on that day for "assistant photographer" and that no applicant will be on hand. He does not know what an assistant photographer is, nor who is to be examined, but he will hold the examination for the lone candidate just the same as if it were one.

Wanted—An Occupation.

When they asked Reginald Vanderbilt his occupation he replied, "Gentleman." When they asked the same question of Harry Payne Whitney he answered: "I don't know what name to give to that." Perhaps Col. Watterson could be induced to take an hour or two off to coin a word that will fittingly describe the moneyed leisure class of this great nation?
